Another Honored Landmark Gone

Death comes to George C. Everett at the age of three score, ten and nine years, at the home of his son, Catlett Everett, on Saturday night. Burial took place in Machpelah cemetery on Sunday afternoon after funeral service at the home conducted by Rev. M. V. P. Yeaman. Mr. Everett is survived by two sons, John Everett, who lives in the State of Louisiana, near New Orleans; G. Catlett, of this county; and one daughter, Mrs. Lawless Gatewood, also of the county. Mr. Everett was a good citizen, loyal to his friends and with the strongest devotion for his kindred. As he was in his loyalty to friends and relatives so he was in political affiliations. When a younger man he could be counted on as an active party worker and figured in some of the hottest contested elections during the days when the Blackburn's, Marshall's, Beck's, McCreary, and the Breckinridge's were active in the political arena. Under the Cleveland administration he served as Postmaster of Mt. Sterling, had been town marshal and had served this community in other capacities.

George Everett lived more than the number of years allotted to man, had the respect of all, and has passed on and out of life to enjoy the rewards of his labors. Peace to his ashes, rest to his soul.

Narrow Escape

John Collins, a farmer on the place of Billy Wells, on the Spencer pike, narrowly escaped death Sunday morning. Mr. Collins was going to spend the day with his sister, had hitched a family horse to his buggy and while cleaning the seat struck it against some part of the buggy, when the horse, a high-spirited animal, sprang forward, throwing Mr. Collins over the dashboard and out on the pike, entangling his feet in the reins. He was dragged considerable distance before he was released and when found was unconscious. His injuries are painful but not necessarily serious. His injuries consist of a skinned face, nose, both hands and back. He is game and notwithstanding continual pain, was up and out looking after his business interests on Monday morning.

Buy Shoe Department of R. E. Punch Co.

R. G. Kern, as executor of the estate of the late Richard E. Punch, has sold the shoe department of the Punch Company to Thomas J. Wilson, J. R. Owings and Mrs. R. E. Punch. Invoicing of the stock will begin on September 15th and the new firm will take charge immediately after the invoice has been completed. Mr. Wilson, senior member of the firm, is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Punch and has for some time past been connected with the company. Although a resident of Mt. Sterling for a comparatively short while, he has made many warm friends here and it is with great pleasure that he is welcomed into Mt. Sterling's business circles.

Mr. Owings, while young in years, has had much practical experience in the shoe business, is extremely popular with the trade and is a most excellent salesman.

Mrs. Punch, who will be an active member of the firm, joins the ranks of Mt. Sterling business women for the first time. She is popular and deservedly so, and her connection with the firm will do much toward assuring its success.

The new concern will pursue the same policy that made the firm of R. E. Punch & Co. such a marked success in the business world. Only high class goods will be handled and we bespeak for the new concern a goodly share of the patronage of this and surrounding counties.

Totten, of Louisville, and Robert and Joe Totten, of Decatur, Ill. Mrs. Dunn was a member of the local Christian church and a most excellent woman.

John Fay Killed By Officer Stockdale

John Fay, notorious character about town, was shot and instantly killed this morning by Officer Rufus Stockdale, while resisting arrest.

Fay, it seems was drunk and disorderly and was threatening to shoot up a house in the Red Light district in which part of the city the trouble occurred. The inmates, becoming alarmed, telephoned police headquarters and Stockdale was sent to stop the disturbance. Fay was attempting to break in a door, it is said, when ordered by Stockdale to consider himself under arrest. Fay then called Stockdale a vile name, knocked the officer's cap off and made a move as if to draw a gun. Stockdale, thinking his own life to be in danger, drew his pistol and fired one shot, the bullet piercing Fay's heart and killing him instantly. Stockdale returned to headquarters and gave himself up. His examining trial will likely be held tomorrow.

Fay's body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Eastin & Harris, and prepared for burial. So far as is known Fay has no relatives to claim the body and it will probably be buried here.

The affair is a very unfortunate one, but according to Stockdale could not be avoided.

Haggard Indicted

The Clark County grand jury in session at Winchester today returned an indictment against Rodney Haggard, charged with the murder of Ben Good, and the trial has been set for the 28th of this month.

Harding Would Reverse Foreign Policy

Senator Harding promises—"threatens" would be a better word, if elected, to completely reverse the foreign policy of the United States.

Let us see what this would mean in even a few familiar particulars: A repudiation of the Monroe Doctrine, which has been the established policy for nearly a hundred years, including Grover Cleveland's Venezuela message: "The United States is practically sovereign on this continent and its fiat is law."

Repudiation of the Spanish-American War and the return of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines to Spain.

Repudiation of the policies that kept us at peace with Europe (except for the Spanish War) for more than a hundred years, and keeps us at peace with Japan now.

Repudiation of the treaty under which we built the Panama Canal.

Return of Alaska to Russia.

Repudiation of our entrance into the World War to overthrow German autocracy and make the world safe for democracy.

Repudiation of our refusal to recognize the Bolshevik government.

Repudiation of our policy of non-intervention in Mexico.

These are but a few familiar phases of our foreign policy that Senator Harding would "completely reverse."

Is it any mystery why they keep him chained on the porch?

JOHN LOVE ALLEN MARRIED

John Love Allen, popular young society man of Winchester, and well known in this city, was married in Paris last Friday to Miss Alpha Summers, also of Winchester.

Saturday a $200 mule, the property of James Thompson, was killed by lightning. Two other mules were nearby and were knocked down but were uninjured.

Wedding of Interest

The following from the Lexington Herald of Sunday will be of much interest here where Dr. Wyatt is well known and widely related:

"The marriage of Dr. Walter Simrall Wyatt, of Lexington, and Miss Ethel Frank, of Minot, N. D., was solemnized Thursday in the private parlor of the Hotel Sherman in Chicago. Rev. Dr. Barr, of the Michigan Avenue Presbyterian church, was the officiating minister and the attendants were Dr. Wyatt's two brothers, Messrs. Roy and Sidney Wyatt, of Alabama; Dr. Charles C. Garr, of Lexington, and W. P. Fogarty, of Cincinnati. The bride was accompanied to Chicago by her sister, Mrs. Manning, of North Dakota. Dr. Wyatt and his bride remained in Chicago for a few days and will then go for a tour of the South, visiting kinsmen and other friends in Albany and Birmingham, Ala. They will reach Lexington September 22 and go to housekeeping in their home in Elsmere Park, recently purchased by Dr. Wyatt for the coming of the bride. He is extremely popular in Lexington and many friends will have a cordial welcome for the bride, who is possessed of beauty and charm and was prominent in the war service in Europe. Dr. Wyatt was on the surgeon's staff of the Barrow Base Hospital Unit 40, and while in England during the war met his bride when she was temporarily assigned to duty with the unit at the time of the influenza epidemic. A native of Mt. Sterling, Dr. Wyatt, is of leading Kentucky families, and lived in Alabama for a number of years before coming to Lexington, where he is now successfully established in his profession."

Charles Letcher Injured in Fall From Barn

Aids to Grace and Beauty

PERCILLA DEAN

Sleep sound and dreamless, is essential to beauty, for it is the silent workshop wherein tired nerves and broken down tissues are restored and reinvigorated.

The amount of sleep required differs with the temperament of each individual.

From seven to eight hours per night has been decided upon as the requirement for the average adult, but for children and infants this is not enough; they should sleep almost from sun to seven the next morning.

To retire or rise at any stated time, merely to carry out a theory, is worse than foolish and usually results in wakeful hours as wasted ones.

To awaken a child from natural sleep at a stated hour every morning is an almost criminal practice, as it invariably brings with it some measure of suffering. Nature knows best how much or how little sleep we require, and she will attend to that duty as well as to all others if we do not transgress the laws which she has laid down for us.

The bedroom should be the most congenial spot in the house. There should be absolutely nothing in its location or furnishing to jar upon the nerves.

The bed should be soft and spread with natural smoothness, the pillow low and the room well ventilated. See that no bright light is permitted to enter and, if desired a dark shade may be hung before the window.

Never allow flowers, sweet meats, or food to remain in the room over night, and all family pets as birds, dogs, and kittens, should be excluded.

A nap during the day is absolutely necessary for children and has been found the greatest possible value to adults.

Sleep smoothes and wrinkles from the brow and retints the cheeks with roses. It restores to each joint its pliant suppleness and rests, through total oblivion, the mental forces which have been overworked or over worried.

To turn night into day is a grievous error and one that will be punished sooner or later.

In sleeping always lie straight in bed, as this position is most conducive to sleep.

Do not lie upon the back if there is any weakness of the stomach, as it is apt to produce unpleasant dreams, snoring and nightmare.

A low pillow should be used in preference to a high one, as the latter strains the ligaments of the back and produces round shoulders. Accustom yourself to as little covering as possible, a good down coverlet is preferable to blankets, ex-

Tobacco Price Probe Will Be Conducted In This City

The following dispatch from Washington is self-explanatory and shows conclusively that Congressman Fields is putting forth his best efforts in the interests of his constituency:

"At the request of Representative W. J. Fields, of Kentucky, the Federal Trade Commission has promised to conduct investigations at Maysville and Mt. Sterling, of the prices paid to growers of tobacco and the prices at which the manufactured product is sold. The investigations are in accordance with the propositions of a resolution adopted by the last Congress. Representatives are to be sent at once to the two Kentucky tobacco centers to make the investigations. The resolution provides that a report is to be made to Congress when it reconvenes in December.

Before retiring throw off all worries and cares of the day. Do not brood over squabbles in the office or unpleasant remarks passed from mouth to mouth. Forget it all and prepare for the greatest beauty provider that nature can give you.

A series of deep breathing exercises in front of an open window or any kind of exercise will keep the blood circulating in the proper manner.

Now for the exercises. In deep breathing exercises we should aim for the following results; to strengthen the muscles of ordinary breathing and also to strengthen the extra muscles of breathing such as the arms and back. We should endeavor to preserve and increase the elasticity of the lungs to develop evenly, all their parts, to heighten permanently their capacity.

EDUCATIONAL TOOTH TALK—II Baby's Teeth

When a child's permanent teeth first appear they are sometimes subject to immediate decay. Parents often confuse these new teeth with the baby teeth and neglect them until it is forever too late. They go on the theory that they will soon be out anyway so why bother about them. This is an error for which there are no amends. The part of wisdom is to send the child to the dentist occasionally for examination. By sending him periodically you overcome his possible fear of the dentist thus early in life; and that in itself will be a boon to the child in his after years. Aside from this you have the assurance that this expert attention will prevent a handicap to the child's future.—Dr. H. M. Wright, Traders Bank Bldg.

Interesting Letter
From Tom Hoffman

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Sept. 11, 1920.
 Mrs. M. C. Ayres,
 Local Editor Mt. Sterling Advocate,
 My dear Mrs. Ayres:—

As you asked me to write an account of my trip with the Boy Scouts of America attending the International "Jamboree" held at London, England, I am pleased to do so. I did not dream of being one of the fortunate ones to attend it and not until I reached New York did I find out what a big thing it really was.

I left Mt. Sterling on June 29th and arrived at New York June 30th, late in the afternoon. On July 2nd I went to Fort Hamilton, where I registered and was accepted as one of the party. We were outfitted and for three days drilled hard and were taught many things of soldier life and scouting. It was about, so we were told, the same as the boys who had entered the army. When it came time for the grand parade that had been arranged for us in New York we were all "prepared." We marched from 23rd street to Central Park, a distance of nearly 4 miles, carrying our packs weighing about 50 pounds, where we were received by the Mayor of New York and several other big men and where we put on a show for the public. We then went to Hotel Pennsylvania for a farewell banquet given us by them. On the 6th we were taken aboard the United States Army Transport "Pocahontas," the boat was in dock about 5 minutes waiting for a tug to draw her out of the harbor. There were 301 boys in the party, divided into eight groups of about 36 boys each. Troop 1 was the Denver Scout band of 50 boys. I was No. 10 in Troop 2. We were all under the leadership of Col. Gigilliat, of Culver Military Institute, Culver, Ind. During the 10 days going over we were drilled and practiced for the "Jamboree." The weather was fine and only one boy got seasick (not me). Landed at Southampton on July 16th and entrained for London, arriving there about 1 p. m. and were quartered at the Y. M. C. A., Midway Park, for about a week. Here we had drills and practice for the Indian Pageant or Scenic Display. While there we also met many of the English Scouts and made many trades of buttons, coins and badges. During the time we were not drilling we were on sight seeing trips in London where we saw many historical and interesting places, including The Bank of England, Tower of London, Houses of Parliament, Westminster Abbey and Warwick Castle. The English automobiles and street cars were so funny and different from ours; not near so many and running only about a third or half as fast. At Warwick Castle I met Lady Astor, M. P., and I was the first boy to get her signature in my book and she patted me and pulled my hair and I did get a little feeling for home. In London I met Mr. John W. Davis, the U. S. Ambassador there, who was mighty nice to me. On July 30th we were transferred to Old Deer Park, Richmond, a suburb of London. The "Jamboree" began on the 31st, which was the next day after reaching Richmond. This was attended by Boy Scouts from 33 nations, all of which entered into the arena at Olympia, where the contests were held during the seven days of the "Jamboree." The Boy Scouts from each nation put on a show relating to the custom of their country. The Boy Scouts of America put on an Indian Pageant in which I was taking the part of a "Squaw." There was rough riding by the officers from Culver in this show also. The old U. S. A. carried off most of the honors. When carrying our packs which was on an average of nearly two miles, not one of the boys gave out during any of the time. We were then taken across the English Channel to Paris where we enjoyed our stay and the many sights we saw, including 40 other boys and myself in a trip to the Marly, 100 feet to the top of the Eiffel Tower, and seeing the Grand Opera. On August 13th we entrained for Chateau Thierry, where we had busses and army trucks in which to tour the battlefields. We went to Belleau Woods and saw Belleau Wood cemetery which was nicely kept by some American family living there to keep it. We placed a wreath for the dead Americans and then resumed our journey to Soissons where we spent the night. We then journeyed to Brussels where we put on a show for the Belgian people. On our way to Antwerp from Brussels we stopped and met Cardinal Mercier, the greatest Cardinal living. In Antwerp we attended the Olympic games where we saw Landen of the U. S. break the world's record in the high jump. We sure had a fine time in Belgium and the Belgian people sure treated us fine during our stay there. On the 18th we set sail for Brest from Antwerp, taking with us from Brest the bodies of about 800 dead American soldiers. We then went to St. Nazaire and took on more bodies, coming home on the U. S. A. "Princess Matoika." Had quite a restful trip, saw many whales, porpoises and sharks, and after a 14 day trip home landed in New York on Sept. 4th at 7 p. m. We landed at the battery where I first saw Dad waiting for me. Through a kind invitation from the Commodore Hotel we were given a swell banquet there and those who wanted to, could stay at this hotel three days with lodging and meals at the hotel's expense. It was announced at the banquet that Troop 2 was the best of the entire lot and of course I sure was proud. I took the first train possible out of New York for old Mt. Sterling, reaching here the 7th.

Mrs. Ayres, if all the boys could only know what a fine time a Scout can have I am sure we would have a dandy council here and I hope that before long we can get such a crowd together that all of you will be awfully proud of us. I am sure proud that I am a Boy Scout—I'll tell the world.

Your friend,
TOM HOFFMAN.

THE MORE THAT SLUSH FUND CHARGE IS STIRRED THE MORE IT GROWS

Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, Democratic member of the Senate Investigating Committee, brought out before the committee the fact that the quota for the State of Ohio had been fixed at $1,300,000. Now let's figure again: Any kind of a mathematician can come to a correct aggregate with these figures and the population of Ohio and that of the entire United States taken as a basis. The showing would be far in excess of $15,000,000. Thus snared the Republican members of the committee would make the people believe Democrats are attempting to extort from women government employees money to aggregate a swell of the Democratic campaign fund under the threat of a forfeiture of their positions. The point in this is to divert the public mind from the proven charges of Governor Cox. Such tactics would not stand for one of the twelve testified before that committee that they gladly gave and that their's were free gifts, free from threats of any kind. So ends chapter one with Governor Cox's charges sustained.

One of the most significant signs of the campaign is found in the letters newspapers print from the readers which show a general trend of independent sentiment toward Cox and Roosevelt, but no independent Democratic sentiment toward Harding and Coolidge. Every day the Democratic papers contain letters from readers announcing that they are Republicans but intend to vote for Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt, and similar letters frequently appear in Republican newspapers, which probably receive many more of the kind than they print.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMENTS

We had a real live meeting on the 8th of this month with forty-one members present. There are several of the members that are getting real conspicuous for their absence at the meetings and we want to urge EVERY MEMBER to get his ticket from John Keller and be with us on the 22nd of this month. Don't wait for Keller to hunt you up, go and see him NOW and get your ticket.

Have you noticed the improvement on the corner of Main and Maysville streets? All of the big canvas signs, banners, etc., have been taken down at the request of the Chamber of Commerce and just as soon as it stops raining (if it ever does) you will be able to see the sun—heretofore all you could see was signs, signs, banners, banner and still more things to mar the beauty of our city.

Seeing the Better Side

(By Geo. S. Meredith)

"When you get to know a fellow,
Know his every mood and whim,
You begin to find the texture
Of the splendid side of him.

"You begin to understand him,
And you cease to scoff and sneer.
For with better understanding
All prejudices disappear.

"You begin to find his virtues
And his faults you cease to tell,
For you seldom hate a fellow
When you know him very well."

The Chamber of Commerce is considering holding a tobacco and corn exhibition some time this Fall, providing the farmers want it. We are investigating the matter now and will give full particulars in the near future.

Mt. Sterling merchants are rapidly acquiring the "get-to-gether" and "pull-to-gether" spirit. Only a few days ago the writer saw "Sig" Newmeyer and "Johnnie" Walsh talking on one corner and "Ab" Oldham and Homba on the other. We need more of this get-to-gether and pull-to-gether spirit.

Be An Active Optimist

If you think your house the best,
Tell 'em so;
If you'd have it lead the rest,
Help it grow.
When there's anything to do,
Let the others count on you;
You'll feel bully when it's through
Don't you know.

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks
For awhile.
Let the other person roast.
Shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.

The Publicity Committee is working on the proposition of erecting signs of welcome on all the roads leading into our city. We have needed these signs for a long time as there is nothing that attracts a stranger's attention more forcibly than a nice sign of welcome as he comes to our city. Signs should also be placed along the right of way of the C. & O. so that travelers could tell when they come to the best little city in the Blue Grass.

OBITUARY

We copy the following from the "Pickaway County News," published at Ashville, O.:

Robert Scott Smith, a prominent farmer and stockman, died at the age of 46, at his home on the Columbus pike. Thursday morning, Sept. 2nd, 1920, after a prolonged illness of paralysis, caused by a spinal injury.

Mr. Smith came here from Mt. Sterling, Ky., in 1903 and settled upon the Patterson farm, which he has since occupied and operated.

His wife, who was Miss Dorothy Turney Patterson, of Hillsboro, O., survives him, with two children, Katherine and Wm. Halley. He is also survived by two sisters, who live at Mt. Sterling, Ky.—Mrs. L. E. Griggs and Miss Lucy C. Smith.

He was the son of the late Major Wm. Halley Smith, a man of sterling integrity and worth. in Montgomery county, Kentucky. He was an enthusiastic and successful breeder of Polled Shorthorn cattle and by perseverance and industry had gathered a herd of merit which is valuable property and the kind from which a community would have profited and we regret the loss of the value of his experience and judgment. The magnificent animal, "Forest Prince," head of his herd, took Senior Championship at Ohio State Fair the day Mr. Smith died.

He was progressive and public spirited and took active interest in our schools and the Grange and all farm and community projects. He had served as member of the school board, was president of the Farmers Institute for several years and Master of the Scioto Valley Grange, and in all these he proved to be a successful leader. He affiliated with the M. E. Church at South Bloomfield and served as a member of the official board of trustees, and was assistant Superintendent of the Sunday School, a teacher and regular attendant. He was kind to all in trouble and distress and his many acts of kindness will never be forgotten.

Funeral services were held at the residence Friday afternoon, Rev. Parkins officiating, and a large crowd of friends met to attest their respect and affection for him. Burial was in Patterson family lot at Hillsboro, O., Saturday."

Senator Harding has at last said something that is bold, fearless, clear as a bell and which cannot be successfully disputed. Evidently without consultation with Chairman Hays, or Senator Penrose, or the campaign committee, he comes right out and in tones that carry conviction to the mind and a thrill to the heart declares: "The history of civilization is a very interesting story."

The Advocate for printing.

One of the finest tributes ever paid to the labor record of Governor Cox was that of a Pennsylvania miner, who in a strike escaped across the State line into Ohio and said: "Pennsylvania is Siberia; Ohio is America." The Governor of Ohio, then as now, was James M. Cox, who settled all Ohio strikes without calling out a soldier or firing a shot.

The thorns sometimes teach us more than the roses do.

Cantrill is Chairman of Organization Committee

Representative J. Campbell Cantrill, Congressman from the Seventh Kentucky District, has been appointed Chairman of the Organization Committee of the Democratic National Committee. That position four years ago was held by Daniel C. Roper, former Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Mr. Cantrill will begin his duties at once.

In 1916 Mr. Cantrill was chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee for Kentucky, and it was largely through his ability as an organizer that so large a Democratic vote was polled for the Democratic ticket in the Blue Grass State.

The women may be wrong a great deal of the time. But when they claim that the men couldn't get along without them, they are always right with a great big capital R.

WHAT'S DOING IN POLITICS

With the appointment of an executive committee of men and women to guide the policies of the campaign, the Democrats have about completed their organization. Chairman John L. Grayot appointed the following men: Judge Alex P. Humphrey, Louisville; Senator George B. Martin, Catlettsburg; Judge Chas. A. Hardin, Harrodsburg; Col. P. H. Callahan, Louisville; Senator Chas. M. Harris, Versailles; Hon. W. J. Sparks, Mt. Vernon; Thos. S. Rhea, Russellville. Mrs. Samuel M. Wilson, chairman Woman's Department, has appointed the following women to advise with her: Mrs. John B. Castleman, Louisville; Mrs. A. M. Harrison, Lexington; Mr. John Fulton, Bardonia; Miss Alice Lloyd, Maysville; Mrs. Sam B. Watkins, Owensboro; Mrs. Shelley Rouse, Covington, and Mrs. R. B. Phillips, Paducah.

These two groups contain the leading citizens of Kentucky, and the quality of their attainments and character will doubtless attract the Independent as well as the Democratic voter.

William Adams, Jr., adjutant of the Stephan B. Whalen Post of the American Legion, has accepted the appointment as chairman of the Cox and Roosevelt Club in Harrison county. Mr. Adams is a member of the State Executive Board of the American Legion, and is one of the many former service men who recognize in the platform and purposes of the Democratic party those ideals for which they went to war.

Is there any connection between sixteen dollars a ton coal and the Republican slush fund? The coal operator who confessed at Chicago that he had collected sixteen thousand dollars from other coal operators to help elect Harding says he was forced to make these assessments. Are the people being assessed so much a ton of coal to help elect Harding? There seems to be distinct relation between the high price of coal and the high price of elections.

The League of Nations isn't good enough for Warren G. Harding to subscribe to, but it's good enough for him to steal from.

Here are a few of the oratorical heavy artillery who have been enlisted by chairman of the Speakers' Bureau, Harry V. McChesney, to shell the woods for the Democrats in this campaign: Gov. James M. Cox, Franklin D. Roosevelt, William G. McAdoo, Congressman Heflin, of Alabama; Senator J. C. W. Beckham; Senator A. O. Stanley, Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, Miss Alice Lloyd, Mrs. A. M. Harrison, Gov. Charles A. Brough, of Arkansas; Helm Bruce, W. W. Davies, Mrs. Geo. Bass, of Illinois; Mrs. Borden Harriman, of New York; A. W. Barkley, D. H. Kincheloe, R. Y. Thomas, Jr., Ben Johnson, A. B. Rouse, J. Campbell Cantrill, W. J. Fields.

Mr. H. B. Kinsolving, Jr., of Shelbyville, is another ex-service man who has become actively enlisted in the work of making Kentucky safe for Democracy this fall. Mr. Kinsolving was captain of the Field Artillery during the World War and served as instructor at Camp Taylor and Fort Sill. He has perfected organizations of Cox and Roosevelt clubs in every precinct in the state. His estimate is that there will be four thousand young men and young women Democratic clubs in the state when this work gets under way.

It is the vital duty of all organizations to awaken women to the necessity of registering in October so that they will not lose their vote in November. October 5 is registration day in all cities of the first four classes in Kentucky and also October 6, wherever fixed by ordinance. It is imperative that every white voter register on these two days.

HARDING WORRIES REPUBLICAN PRESS

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8.—Whole-souled and unrestricted support of Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate for president, is proving a trying effort for many Republican newspapers.

With Senator Harding's attempt to substitute his own plan of world peace for the League of Nations, already subscribed to by twenty-nine of the leading nations of the world, the majority of Republican press finds severe fault.

On this point the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Republican, predicts that Senator Harding "will not arouse any tremendous enthusiasm in this practical nation by rallying it to take a noble stand on the rotten platform of the League Tribunal, the most pathetic failure in history."

On the same question the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, a Republican paper, disagrees with Harding in his attempt to prove that Poland's troubles can be traced to the League of Nations. The League, it says, is an experiment that is entitled to every chance to make good.

"Poor old Marionette" soliloquizes the Philadelphia Record. "He has tried to straddle on the issue of the League of Nations and is clearly doomed to a bad fall."

The Ohio State Journal, Republican, asserts that Gov. Cox makes out a strong case in his slush fund charges that can't be answered by mere denials.

SWITCHMAN GIVES FACTS TO PUBLIC

Was Going Down Hill So Fast He Became Alarmed—Lost Forty Pounds in Six Weeks.

"The best proof I can give that Tanlac was the right medicine for me is the way it has relieved my suffering and is building me up," said James H. Johnson, for ten years a switchman for the K. & I. Railroad, living at 1725 Crap street, Louisville, Ky., a few days ago.

"Yes sir, I was in an awful fix with my stomach all out of order and my kidneys worrying me day and night. I had to be careful about what I ate and often I was so nauseated I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I would bloat all up with sour gas and I had the worst sort of gnawing pains in my stomach. My kidneys bothered me continually and what little sleep I did manage to get was so restless I hardly knew I had ever been to bed at all. I actually fell off forty pounds in six weeks time and was going down hill so fast it alarmed me. I tried everything anybody told me but I got worse instead of better and I was about ready to give up in despair.

"But one day I saw where a railroad man who was suffering like I was had tried Tanlac and was well pleased with it, so I began taking it and it gave me the finest kind of appetite. Then the indigestion left me and I started picking up in weight. And now in little more than a month's time I have already gained back fifteen pounds of my lost weight and I am still gaining right along. My kidneys don't bother me any more and I can sleep like a top all night long. I am feeling fine and the way Tanlac has built me up is nothing short of remarkable."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Sterling by Land & Priest.

Harding's Record On Labor Assailed

The Non-Partisan Committee of the American Federation of Labor has compiled a report on Senator Harding's record in the United States Senate on labor questions. This report shows that there have been introduced in the Senate during Senator Harding's tenure of office twenty-seven measures of special interest to labor. On only seven of these measures was his vote favorable to labor; on ten he voted unfavorably to labor; once he was paired unfavorably; and in nine instances he is recorded as "not voting."

Thanks to Tennessee, the women of Vermont and Connecticut can now express their opinions at the ballot box of the administrations that refused to allow the elected representatives of the people in their legislatures to vote upon suffrage.

THAT RAINY DAY

(By Caroline McCarty)

Rain a beatin' on de roof!
Who cares fo' de rain?
I see all fixe'd fo' sech as dat—
Cain't skeer me again.

Useter was dat Ah was 'fraid
Of a rainy day,
Thinkin' Ah was gittin' old
An' nothin' laid away.

Useter be I'd sit an' think
When I'd hear it po';
Ah was takin' one mo' step,
Towa'ds de po'-house do!

But de good times came at las,
Work an' splendid pay;
An' Uncle Sam a yellin' loud,
"Sab fo' a rainy day!"

"Work an' sab up ebery cent,
Ebery cent you can;
Ah will keep it safe fo' you
Ah've a splendid plan.

"You sab an' Ah'll keep it safe,
Safe, an' make it grow
So you'll be secure from want
When you're old an' slow."

So Ah took my Unk's advice,
An' you bet Ah'm glad;
It came in de nick o' time—
Kep' me from de bad.

So let de rain come beatin' down
Hard upon the roof;

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

"... I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

Deliberate Attempt To Buy Presidency

Quoting from official documents of the Republican National Committee, Governor Cox laid before the country evidence to substantiate his charge that the G. O. P. managers have deliberately set out to buy the Presidency.

Governor Cox produced the quotas assessed at a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the National Committee covering fifty-one cities in twenty-six states. The total assessments for these cities alone was $8,145,000. Quotas assigned to be raised in these cities are:

New York City	$2,000,000
Chicago	750,000
Philadelphia	500,000
Detroit	450,000
Pittsburgh	400,000
Cleveland	400,000
Boston	300,000
Cincinnati	260,000
St. Louis	250,000
Buffalo	250,000
San Francisco	150,000
Los Angeles	150,000
Indianapolis	125,000
Toledo	100,000
Columbus	100,000
Seattle	100,000
Minneapolis	100,000
St. Paul	100,000
Providence	100,000
Newark	100,000
Youngstown	80,000
Akron	80,000
Oakland	75,000
Milwaukee	75,000
Dayton	60,000
Baltimore	50,000
New Orleans	50,000
Rochester	50,000
Kansas City	50,000
Denver	50,000
New Haven	50,000
Omaha	50,000
Scranton	50,000
Spokane	50,000
Syracuse	50,000
Bridgeport, Conn.	50,000
Washington	50,000

Louisville	50,000
Des Moines	50,000
Schenectady	50,000
Portland	50,000
Birmingham	50,000
Canton, Ohio	40,000
Worcester, Mass.	25,000
Lynn, Mass.	25,000
Albany, N. Y.	25,000
Atlanta	25,000
Memphis	25,000
Duluth	25,000
Jersey City	25,000
Lowell, Mass.	25,000
Total	$8,145,000

The population of these cities is approximately 25,000,000. Under such an apportionment, the sum sought to be raised for the G. O. P. campaign fund in the entire country would well exceed $15,000,000.

Governor Cox read from "confidential letters" from Republican headquarters to money raisers in the field, in which the appeal, "Boys get the money!" frequently appeared, and in which the "gold diggers" were admonished to secrecy.

Referring to 1896, when Mark Hanna spent $16,500,000 in a national campaign, Governor Cox said "it was this foul thing which Theodore Roosevelt brought to an end when he reformed the Republican party," and it was while he was doing that that Warren G. Harding "branded him as an Aaron Burr. He also read a letter from Senator Harding to Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican campaign committee, commending him for the work of raising the money in this vast fund.

NATIONWIDE FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE

American Red Cross Will Have Health Centers in All Parts of United States.

The American Red Cross has launched upon a nation wide campaign of fighting disease and physical defect among the American people. A new and unique health institution has come into being as the result of several months' study by the Red Cross Health Service Department at National Headquarters.

Officials in charge of the department predict that before long this new health activity will be in actual operation all over the country, and that the sign—"American Red Cross Health Center"—will become as familiar to the people everywhere as are now the signs of the telephone companies.

Busy Long Before War.
The interest of the American Red Cross in the fight against disease is not, however, of recent origin. Long before the war the organization began this health service through its medical units in disaster relief work and its department of Town and County Nursing. During the war and following the armistice thousands of American Red Cross officials have been fighting disease in the war-stricken countries. At the same time tens of thousands of local Red Cross officials have been engaged at home fighting disease, notably during the influenza epidemics.

The American Red Cross has determined that all this valuable experience in health service abroad and at home shall not go to waste. So long as there are a half a million people dying yearly in this country from preventable causes, and so long as more than one-third of the American children and young people are victims of physical defects, the Red Cross recognizes the urgent need for continued Red Cross health service at home.

How Organization Works.
The Red Cross Health Center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a storeroom in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross Health Center is of service to the sick in that it gives out reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

Teaching Disease Prevention.
The Red Cross Health Center is, however, of even greater service to the well. It teaches people how to prevent sickness and disease. This is done in many interesting and attractive ways—first of all, by the distribution of popular health literature and through health lectures illustrated with lantern slides or with health motion picture films. Then special exhibits are given, one after the other, on various health subjects. Practical demonstrations are made; also health playlets by children to interest and instruct themselves and their elders. Classes are organized in personal hygiene, home care of the sick, first aid and in food selection and preparation. Health clubs, both for younger and older people, are formed; also Little Mothers' Leagues. Nutrition and growth clinics are conducted for children.

Already more than a hundred of these Red Cross Health Centers are in actual operation throughout the country. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross Health Center is its health education service which teaches well people how to keep well.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR OUR RED CROSS WORK

Lauding the work accomplished by American philanthropy for war-stricken France, Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner from that nation to the United States, in a recent article widely commented on throughout the French press, says:

"The American Red Cross has accomplished a work which calls for the heartfelt gratitude of every true Frenchman. In 1918 this great relief organization spent in behalf of France nearly $7,000,000 francs, and in 1919 its expenditures on charitable projects in our country attained the tremendous total of 171,000,000. It has recently turned over to the French relief organizations huge stocks of supplies whose value must be counted in the hundreds of thousands of francs.

"Fifteen million American boys and girls, banded together in the Junior Red Cross of America, are back of a movement to establish the closest ties between themselves and France's younger generation through the charitable works they have financed and are now carrying out among our little war sufferers.

"The bonds of friendship between France and America is cemented with mutual admiration, respect and gratitude."

PRICES GOING DOWN

The keen student, who forecast lower prices on most commodities, and who refused to purchase at the high prices prevailing for so long a time, has the satisfaction now of having his opinion corroborated by the highest authority—the Federal Reserve Bank for the Eighth District at St. Louis.

In the latest monthly statement the bank says the course of values on a broad classification of commodities is downward.

Included in this, the bank statement says, are several important staples which for a long period had remained unshaken at abnormally high levels.

The wise man who put his money in United States securities during the high priced era, and refused to pay the outrageously high prices for articles he could do without, is now in a position to get more nearly his money's worth.

Luke Rielly Says, "The Rat Died Before Reaching the River."

"Since moving near the river two years ago, we've always used RAT-SNAP. Watched a vicious water rat, nibbling at RAT-SNAP outside the house. About 15 minutes later he darted off for the water, to cool his burning stomach, but he died before reaching it." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Chenaunt & Orear.

NITROGEN FOR TOP DRESSING

Experiments made have shown no gain in yield from the use of commercial nitrogen applied on wheat in the fall, according to the latest report made by the director of the Kentucky Experiment Station. Profitable gains have been made from the use of nitrogen as a top dressing on wheat where wheat follows corn. This application should be made in the spring as soon as growth begins and should be at the rate of approximately 100 to 200 pounds of nitrate of soda or its equivalent, depending on the character of the soil and the condition of the wheat. The experiments have been conducted in order to answer the questions coming annually to the Experiment Station as to whether commercial nitrogen can be profitably used on wheat and whether it should be applied in the spring or fall.

Corn and Tobacco Crops Record Breakers

The greatest corn crop in the country's history is in prospect for this year's harvest. Forecast of production based on September 1st conditions was placed at 3,131,000,000 bushels by the Department of Agriculture.

Such a yield would top by six million bushels the previous largest crop on record, which was in 1912. A crop of open larger proportions will be harvested if frosts hold off until late and permit maturity of much late corn now rated as of doubtful promise.

Tobacco also is a record crop this year and probably exceeds the best previous production by 114,000,000 pounds. Forecast of production places this year's crop at 1,553,000,000 pounds.

August growing conditions proved highly beneficial to most important crops and production forecasts generally were higher than the forecasts of a month ago. Corn improved to the extent of 128,000,000 bushels; oats 40,000,000 bushels; white potatoes 11,000,000 bushels; sweet potatoes 1,000,000 bushels; tobacco 10,000,000 pounds and apples 10,000,000 bushels.

Spring wheat, however, suffered a loss of 25,000,000 bushels because of drouth, and flax lost 2,500,000 bushels from the same cause.

The world's best trotters will be seen in action at LEXINGTON, Oct. 4-16. Two of the best races will be decided on the first day—The Futurity worth $7000 and The Walnut Hall Cup $3000.

Mrs. Haggard Says Husband Choked Her

Depositions in the divorce suit of Mrs. Nancy Mullins Haggard against Rodney Haggard were filed in the Clark Circuit Court at Winchester yesterday. The case is of unusual interest because on August 27th Haggard shot and killed Ben Good, a young society man of Winchester.

Mrs. Haggard says she was married to Mr. Haggard in Lexington March 19, 1916, and they lived together as husband and wife until about three months ago. She says he objected to her taking her baby to her parents' home; that when she would come home he would have the door locked and that when the baby was sick she would call up her mother to come and take her and the baby home, and that her husband said he could get no rest "with a damned baby squalling."

The witness said her husband often said if it were not for her and the child he could live at his brother's mansion, the home of Judge F. H. Haggard. She said her husband called her names, struck her on several occasions and once choked her to stifle her cries. She had not told her parents, but the baby, Ella Haggard, 4 years old, did tell them. She said her husband said he did not care if she did tell her father, but if she did, he would attend to him. She said she did not tell her father because she did not want to cause any trouble. She swore her husband had carried a pistol off and on ever since he had had trouble with J. A. Cozart.

Mrs. Haggard said when her baby had whooping cough she went to her mother's home so as to get proper treatment for the baby. She said her husband had her trunk sent to her mother's and she called up the transfer man to bring the trunk back, and when Haggard came home he told the man not to bring the trunk back.

Mrs. Haggard said she never any time was alone with Ben Good. He was a schoolmate of her sister, and she had known him since he was a child. She said she was 23 years old, and never had been guilty of improper conduct during her married life. She said if Mr. Good had ever gone up to her apartments it was without her knowledge. She said Good twice had been at her father's home to call on her sister, Polly, but was never there after the latter's marriage.

The defendant filed the following statement, waiving cross-examination:

"In view of the fact that a charge of murder is pending against the defendant, growing out of the shooting of Ben Good, and the belief on the part of the defendant and his counsel that the filing of this suit for divorce and the taking of his deposition at this time is for the purpose of embarrassing his defense to said charge, the defendant now, under the advice of his counsel, declines at this time to cross-examine the witness."
